IN HIS WORDS...

The future of America is in our hands. It is up to us to make sure that we are not just a nation of words, but a nation of action. We must stand up for the principles that we believe in, and we must not be afraid to do so. We must be brave. We must love each other. We must be kind. We must be honest. We must be true. We must be brave. We must love each other. We must be kind. We must be honest. We must be true. We must be brave. We must love each other. We must be kind. We must be honest. We must be true.
